

A collection of various metallurgical tools and equipment. At the top left is a crucible on a stand. Below it is a hammer. To the right is a pair of long-handled tongs. In the center are several long, cylindrical rods or pipes. To the right of these is a small furnace or crucible with a bright orange flame. Below the furnace is a small pile of sparks or a small fire. To the right of the sparks is another pair of tongs. At the bottom is a large, dark, cylindrical object, possibly a furnace or a large crucible, with a bright orange flame. The entire collection is arranged in a circular pattern around a central point of sparks.
